

It's Hard to Believe

by Marjorie Rughubar

It's hard to believe

That a woman was created

From the ribs of some man -- two bones?

Women are much too strong

I refuse to believe that!

Women in every home are guardians of religion

Inspiring higher values in their offspring

Throughout history

In every era

They've struggled and endured many difficulties

"Woman is made from the ribs of man?"

It's too hard to accept or believe -- it can't be true.

"Remember man from dust thou art

And to dust you must return."

"Women jewels thou art

Always remain the Golden Stars in the Sky."
